To the CVRD Directors,

This new zoning bylaw you are trying to push through is nothing more than a cash grab for an overspreading Regional Government. $50,000 fines for noncompliance! The idea that home and property owners no longer have the right to work and live and make decisions on their own land is unacceptable and at the very least, should go to the public for discussion and a vote. It is shocking how much we already pay in taxation and there you are, with your hands in our pockets once again. Shameful.
