Hi Sierra,

The new comprehensive Zoning Bylaw needs a full stop and go back to a public input stage. I sometimes wonder if the CVRD just dreams up stuff to make residents lives more difficult and/or create work for themselves. The rules and regulations associated with this Bylaw are so shortsighted that it's laughable the directors would even entertain discussing it. Just a few examples are the proposed regulations regarding fence height and raising chickens.

Appreciate your consideration of this opinion,

Alan Stewart
