Dear Mike and whomever else it may concern,

I am disheartened about the recent news towards some local bylaw changes that I've seen circulating the internet this past week. I seriously feel you need to put your attention and efforts towards the open use drug and alcohol, crime, and vandalism issues that are presenting throughout the area and create an environment where people feel safe in their communities again instead of going after farmers and local businesses. Stop threatening silly bylaws that should not be of concern. It is little of what's left to make the Cowichan Valley feel inviting these days. So please redirect your energy to issues that matter and stop trying to take away the little bit of joy that Cowichan Valley has to offer.

Regards,

Lora
