Stop trying to make the country rural areas into city standards and trying to take away people's freedom of animals they keep: that be as a pet or to feed their family. If this is your directive and personal choice move to a bigger city on the mainland. We are already getting crushed by taxes on top of taxes. We pay for our properties and the property taxes stop being greedy and trying to take control of people's livelihoods and safe spaces. I vote no to your proposed changes. If I wanted to live in a dictatorship country I would move. Give your heads a shake and find some bylaws or policies to actually help the people in your community instead of filling egos and greed.

Best,
