Hello

I am writing on behalf of many, but in particular a plea for help for a small business called Drifters Creamery - an ice cream truck in Cobble Hill that I frequent in the summer months.

I love to support small businesses such as this one - they are the backbone of our communities, the lifeblood of the Cowichan Valley.

Flexible food truck rules matter for community access to local treats, events, and vibrant public spaces... this particular food truck has an agreement with the landlord - why would the new Cowichan Zoning Bylaw put such strict parameters of only operating a certain number of hours a day and then having to move the food truck everyday? Many other people support this small business and bring their guests there as I do. It would be a sad day indeed if they had to close down because of a nonsensical rule, that no one asked for.

I sincerely hope that this, and several of the other very restrictive rules I have read being considered, are given a second thought.

Public opinion must be sought before changes are made that will affect the livelihoods of people and their families.

Thank you for your time,

Patricia MacGregor
